

MISS BARMANN TELLS OF TRIP

INTERESTING TRAVELOGUE ON CENTRAL AMERICA.

MARYVILLE GIRL IN SALVADOR 6 MONTHS

Had Delightful Experiences, Not the Least of Which Was Helping to Pick Chum's Trousseau.

By Kate Schenck.

Most of us have a misty idea that Central America is a land of tropical scenery, perpetual summer time and—bananas. That's just about all we know, too.

A Saturday afternoon visit with Miss Ora Barmann, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barmann, who returned that morning from a six months' visit in Salvador—a republic of Central America—was more delightful and more interesting than all the travelogues one might read.

Miss Barmann's visit came about through her friendship with Miss Hortensia Sol, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Salvador Sol, a friendship which had its beginning over four years ago while both young women were students at the Sacred Heart convent in St. Joseph.

The Sol town home is at Santa Tecla, one of the most progressive cities of Salvador but the most wonderfully interesting times to the little American guest were spent at the immense coffee and balsam plantation or "finca," as the native Spanish people call it.

Thought Coffee Trees Holly.
"When I reached San Salvador," telling it in Miss Barmann's own words, "and drove in the auto through groves of beautiful trees, thick with bright red berries, I at once exclaimed: 'Oh, the lovely holly, why, I didn't know it grew here.' Then my hostess told me they were coffee trees."

"The leaves are some larger than our holly, and so are the berries, but the trees are low the leaves are dark green and very shiny, and the berries the bright holly red. The blossom is a tiny flower and grows in a cluster around the stem. The trees were in full bloom when I left and they are more beautiful than the orange groves or anything else I have ever seen."

"Salvador is the balsam coast of the world, being the only place where balsam trees are found. Our popular American term for industrial and commercial giants has reached Central America long ago, and Mr. Sol is known everywhere as the balsam king, by rights of owning and operating the largest plantation in the country."

"Balsam trees grow to several hundred feet in height, tall and straight, branching only at the top. On Mr. Sol's finca is one immense tree which has been worked for 200 years and is said by botanists to be over 400 years old. The sap when extracted is the balsam oil of commerce."

"In tapping the trees incisions are made all around the trunk, about 8 to 10 inches apart. At the next tapping the bark is stripped and an incision made just above the old wound."

Foundation of All Perfumes.
"Balsam oil is the foundation of all perfumes and is also used in many healing medicines. The process of refining is interesting and the odor is most delightful. Mr. Sol ships his products both to the United States and to Europe."

"The homes are all built after the Spanish style of architecture, one story a patio in the center, with an open corridor or porch all the way around. On account of the windows being next to the street, all outside ones are iron bound. Instead of having the yard surround the house as we do, there the house surrounds the yard. The houses are built but one story high for two reasons—fear of earthquakes and coolness. Earthquakes are of rather frequent occurrence in Salvador."

"In the better homes the patios are cemented and of course made beautiful with fountains, plants and flowers."

Within the last few years especially, many planters in building new homes are following the American style of (Continued on page 2.)

NO PAPER TOMORROW.

The Democrat-Forum Will Observe Decoration Day. No Democrat-Forum will be issued tomorrow, as the entire force will observe Decoration Day. This policy is in line with the national observance of the day. Most of the stores of Maryville will close. Important telegraph dispatches will be bulletined in the windows of The Democrat-Forum office.

MISS HOFFMAN TO TUCSON

Maryville Girl, Who Has Been Teaching at Shenandoah, Goes to Arizona City.

Miss Elizabeth Dale Hoffman, a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. L. E. Dean, has been employed for the coming year to teach in the public schools of Tucson, Ariz.

Miss Hoffman is a graduate of the Maryville high school and the Northwest State Normal. She has taught for the past two years in the primary department of the Shenandoah, Ia., schools and will take up the same work in the Tucson schools.

VETERANS' DINNER

MEAL IS TO BE SERVED FREE BY W. R. C. TOMORROW.

TO ALL OLD SOLDIERS

William Glaze, Thomas Wright, Dr. D. C. Wilson and John Herron Have Died in the Last Year.

A free dinner will be served tomorrow to all soldiers both of the blue and the gray, as well as veterans of the Spanish-American war, at 12:30 tomorrow at the First M. E. church. The W. R. C. will serve the dinner and issue a general invitation to all soldiers to come.

The Rev. C. Emerson Miller of the Christian church, in the annual Memorial Day sermon to the G. A. R. and W. R. C. yesterday spoke of the stones which the children of Israel set up upon their safe crossing of the Jordan into the promised land. Lessons of the fitness of memorializing great events were drawn from this occurrence in the old testament.

The plans for decorating the graves have been completed. Work will begin at 8:30 tomorrow morning, when the women of the W. R. C. will meet at the First Methodist church to receive the flowers which citizens are expected to bring or send to that place. You are urged to help in this work by contributing flowers.

This will be distributed to the graves of the veterans. The Memorial Day service will be at the Presbyterian church tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. The Rev. C. H. John of Siloam Springs, Ark., will give an address on "Abraham Lincoln, the Representative American." Prof. H. A. Miller will read Lincoln's Gettysburg address, and music appropriate to the occasion will be given. The public is invited to this service.

Many Stores Will Close.
Four veterans, members of the local G. A. R. Sedgwick post, have died during the last year. They are William Glaze and John Herron, who are buried in Miriam cemetery; Thomas Wright of Bedford, and Dr. D. C. Wilson, who was buried in California where he died.

The banks will observe the holiday, remaining closed all day. The postoffice will be open from 11 to 12:30 o'clock only. A movement is under way for all the stores to close from 1 p. m. on tomorrow afternoon. The following have signed up to do so: Schumacher's, Townsend's, McCaffrey & Sward's, Byers', Remus', Alderman-Yehle. Haines will close all day.

No Paper Tomorrow.
The Democrat-Forum will not issue tomorrow. The business office, however, will be open all day.

Miss Porter to Excelsior Springs.
Miss Alice Porter, who is a teacher at the Maryville Conservatory, left last week for Excelsior Springs for a few weeks' visit.

BISHOP SACRIFICED

GAVE UP M. E. ORDINATION DAY FOR WILCOX.

MANY HEAR DEDICATION

Debt Upon New Church Lifted as $1,100 Is Raised in Half Hour Yesterday.

Bishop E. R. Hendrix gave up the opportunity of participating in the ordination of the new bishops of the M. E. Church at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., yesterday in order to dedicate the new Wilcox church.

At that meeting yesterday at Wilcox he said that the invitation upon him, as senior bishop of the M. E. Church South, was most urgent but that he was not willing to disappoint the pastor and people of Wilcox, having given his word that he would be here. He missed facing a crowd of 5,000 to speak to one of less than 500.

"I am particularly happy personally to have Bishop Hendrix of Kansas City, with us," said the Rev. G. T. Rolston, pastor, at the opening of the dedication service yesterday morning, "because he presided over the conference at Columbia in 1904 when I was admitted on trial and again three years later at Palmyra when I was ordained a deacon in the Methodist ministry."

"Let us build," the words of Peter on the mount of transfiguration, was the text of the great sermon by the bishop. He said that the first impulse of the human mind in a great experience is to set the hand to do something. All achievements of life are really the work of the hand.

Largest Church Is St. Peter's.
"I am glad as I think of Peter's laudable, though thoughtless desire to build a permanent memorial to the great experience that the greatest church in the world, seating 50,000 people's named St. Peter's," said Bishop Hendrix.

"Architecture owes its greatest development to the church and cathedral building impulse of all ages. This has been true also of art, music, tapestry, and sculpture; these have been fostered by religious feeling, but it is unusually true of the builder's art. Let us build."

The speaker said that the world has always erected memorials for its great men, shafts for Napoleon, Wellington and Washington. Why not memorials for Christ then? What more fitting than that every hilltop should see a spire arising to memorialize to the world that God sent his son into the world to live and among men and die for them.

This is particularly true, he said, because all the great benefits of life follow Christianity. Christian homes, valuable property, peace and plenty are ours. Then why not a memorial to the Christ who makes such things possible? If we honor a man who dies for a friend, why not the highest honors to one who dies for all?

"So I am always happy," said the bishop, "when I have the privilege of dedicating a beautiful structure like this, so eloquent of the love for God in the hearts of the people of the community who make it possible."

"In closing let me sum up the great things which Christ has promised and for which we should build a memorial. They are his personal humanity, his glorious divinity, the resurrection of the body, the progressive knowledge of the redeemed and the recognition of our beloved ones after death."

Raised $1,100 in Short Time.
At the close of the sermon, an effort was made to raise the $1,500 which was still unpaid on the $5,000 structure. In a remarkably short time, $1,100 had been subscribed and more was added to the paper all through the day so that the entire indebtedness was lifted yesterday. Individuals, classes and societies gave in amounts from $1 to $250 in the morning service.

The first scripture lesson was read by the Rev. M. Dewitt of Skidmore, and the second by the Rev. R. C. Holliday of Maryville, who attended the services with many of their congregations. The printed program as given recently was followed throughout the day.

Several hundred heard the sermon and gathered around the tables for the basket dinner.

Miss Helwig Returns.
Miss Katherine Helwig, who has been taking special work in the Chicago University during the last year, returned Saturday and will resume her work as teacher of mathematics at the State Normal school.

TROUBLES INCREASE

ALARMING MOVEMENTS IN CENTRAL MEXICO REPORTED.

GEN. HERRERA THREATENS

Will Attack American if Not Withdrawn by July 1—Carranza Note Fails to Arrive.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.
Washington, May 29.—The prospects for serious trouble in Mexico increased today, following the receipt of a message from General Funston containing information concerning Central Mexico.

It says that General Herrera of the Carranzistas has threatened a drive upon the Americans if they are not withdrawn by the first day of July.

Funston reports that 22,000 Mexican soldiers are concentrated in the vicinity of Chihuahua. He said that he understood that Gavira would suggest to Pershing that the Mexicans take over the patrol which the United States maintains at Colima, Durban and Nampiquipa. Pershing will refuse.

Where is Carranza Note?
The whereabouts of the latest Carranza note which was said to be on its way to Washington, became a mystery today when Manuel Mendez arrived in the capital from Mexico at noon.

It had been reported that he was the bearer of a special message but he immediately denied that he was bringing any communication of any kind. He declared that he was on his way to New York but came to Washington to consult Arredondo, the Carranza representative, when he heard that he was believed to be carrying a special word.

Arredondo declined to discuss the matter further than to say that he had received no word whatever from Mexico City. There is a growing belief that the Carranza note is being held up until the Mexican forces are completely concentrated to back whatever demands are made.

Chihuahua Defense Strengthened.

Chihuahua, May 29.—General Trevino has a mounted artillery on the three hills commanding an approach to this city. A force of artillery arrived today and was added to the city's fortifications.

STANBERRY WON FIRST, 5-0

Harry Tilson, Last Up in Ninth, Broke Up "No-Hit" Game by Only Bingle.

A large crowd saw the Maryville Reds lose the first of a series of games with the Stanberry Red Sox by a 5-0 score. The Stanberry team is with the exception of one or two new men the same combination that has been playing together for several years. The Reds need some men who can bat. The team as a whole is very weak in this department.

Thielman, pitching for Maryville, pitched good ball, yielding only five hits, but was poorly supported both in fielding and batting. Hawthorne, the Stanberry pitcher, offered an underhand slow ball which the Maryville batters could not hit.

With two out in the ninth inning, Harry Tilson spoiled a no-hit game for the Stanberry pitcher by cracking out a single to right center. Each pitcher struck out six men. Five errors were made by Maryville and two by Stanberry.

Berney Harris Jr., the high school player, held down center field and showed up well for his first appearance.

Mrs. F. O. Litch is a visitor in Hopkins today.

INSISTENT DEMANDS ON JUSTICE HUGHES FOR ANSWERS.

Chairman Hilles Says With Apparent Authority That "Teddy" Will Not Bolt.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.
Washington, May 29.—Insistent demands that he answer two questions before the assembling of the Chicago convention are reaching Justice Hughes today. They refer to his acceptance of the nomination if tendered and his attitude toward preparedness.

There is growing belief that the plans of Hughes will be made public before the end of the week.

Roosevelt in Chicago Today.

Chicago, May 29.—Former President Theodore Roosevelt arrived here at 4 o'clock this afternoon for a four-hour stay. Prior to the arrival of the colonel, Chairman Hilles of the Republican national committee, declared his belief that Roosevelt would not lead a third party if not nominated, provided that the platform is satisfactory.

It was intimated by Hilles that Roosevelt has already been approached on the matter. Many leaders are arriving to keep up the preliminary work and by the end of the week practically all of them will be on hand.

Roosevelt will leave this evening at 8 o'clock for Kansas City, where he will speak tomorrow.

J. J. HILL DIED AT 9:30

FAMOUS RAILROAD MAN DEAD AT 77 YEARS.

Another Famous American Empire Builder Passes Away—Pioneer of Northwest.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

St. Paul, May 29.—James J. Hill died this morning at 9:30 o'clock. He had been ill ten days. He was 77 years old. By his death passes another of the great empire builders of America, born in poverty and dying with an immense fortune.

He started as a shipping clerk, then a steamboat agent, owner and manager for the Hudson Bay company when that company found his competition too strenuous. He built the Great Northern system almost single-handed, almost a mile a day for every day in which he was in control being built.

He was one of the principal owners of the Burlington system since 1901. He was a pioneer in many lines of railroad construction and operation and lived to see his beliefs universally accepted over the country. He was active in the affairs of his railroads until his death.

He is survived by six sons and three daughters.

BULGARS INTO GREECE CAUSING ATHENS RIOT

Swiss Military Critics Believe That It Is the Last Desperate Effort of Germany to Win War.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Athens, May 29.—Bulgarian troops armed by German artillery and led by German officers bombarded the Allies positions on the Emir Hissar front in Macedonia. The Bulgarians penetrated the Greek territory fifteen miles and at points where the Greeks tried to stem the invasion they were shelled by the Bulgarians.

Everything indicates that the drive against the Allies in Macedonia is under way. Strong protests against the Bulgarian invasion were made by the Greek government. It is estimated that there are forty thousand Bulgarians on the Greek soil.

Greek Riots at News.

Paris, May 29.—Riots broke out at Athens as a result of the Bulgarians invasion of Greece according to a dispatch. A hostile demonstration was made in front of the palace.

Triple Offensive by Teutons.

Geneva, May 29.—A triple offensive has been launched by the central powers with a growing possibility that it will extend to the east front. There are scenes of even greater activity along both west Italian and Balkan lines.

The Turks are also striving vigorously to launch a counter attack against the Russians. It is believed by the Swiss military critics that the Germans are engaged in one final supreme effort and if this fails it will probably be necessary to adopt purely defensive tactics.

Berlin dispatches say that there is less talk of peace there.

Austrian Troops Still Winning.

Vienna, May 29.—Austrian-Hungarian troops are driving against Arsiero and continue to make progress. The armored works west of Arsiero were captured.

Stockholm, May 29.—Heavy gun fire was heard in the Baltic from the direction of the Ceso Island Sunday. Previously German ships had loaded ore here and were guarded by the warships which were sighted off shore.

English Win in Africa.

London, May 29.—German troops in East Africa retreated twenty miles before the British it was officially announced.

GRAHAM BEAT SKIDMORE

Great Pitching by Anderson Won Game—Athletan Team Cleans Up Parnell Yesterday.

The Skidmore and Graham baseball teams met yesterday on the Graham diamond in a shut-out game of 5 to 0 in favor of Graham. Anderson, the Graham pitcher, was a puzzle to Skidmore. Only twenty-nine men faced him, he striking out twelve. Not a man reached second base and only three got to first base.

Graham made the five scores in the first inning, on four singles and a base on balls and a double. Batteries for Graham were Anderson and Cledinger, for Skidmore Seal and Reakecker.

The Parnell team was defeated by the Athletan, Ia., team on the Athletan diamond yesterday. The score was 3 to 2. The batteries for Parnell were: Riley, McClain and Teeters; for Athletan, Rusco and Rusco, twins. The outfielder was a brother.

HARMONY HOMECOMING JUNE 18.

Always Has Been Held on Third Sunday in June.

The homecoming of the Harmony church will be held Sunday, June 18, and not on Sunday, June 11, as was erroneously reported. This was not published in the Democrat-Forum, however.

The third Sunday in June was set aside as the homecoming day and has always been held on that Sunday.

McKnight for North Judge.

George McKnight of Burlington Junction filed this afternoon for the Republican nomination for county judge from the North district. George S. Miller also filed for the Republican nomination for county surveyor.

Rainfall was 0.24 Inch.

The rainfall last night was 0.24 inch. This brings the total for May to 10 inches approximately. A heavier rain in the north caused the 162 river to rise somewhat this morning.

Miss Juno Jones was the guest of Miss Lora Stults at Skidmore yesterday, returning home last evening. She was accompanied by Miss Stults, who will attend summer school here.

The residence of Mrs. L. W. Ford on South Main street was sold Saturday afternoon to M. Ray, living near Maryville. The consideration was $3,000.

Mrs. T. B. Maulding left today for Bedford where she will be the guest of her mother, Mrs. J. S. Evans several days.

John Mahoney was appointed guardian of the person and estate of Pauline Mahoney, a minor, 11 years old.

A marriage license was issued this afternoon to George R. Holcomb and Mayme Conley of Edgeley, N. D.

FROM A MEMORIAL DAY SERMON.

"As a leaf," in its unselfish, faithful and lasting work for the tree and the world, let each of us be. We are leaves on the great tree of free government that God has planted in this America of ours; leaves which are designed to be for the "healing of the nations of the earth."

Those who have gone before us have built up this tree till its mighty branches stretch far and wide, till its lofty form is visible in all climes, and the weary and the oppressed of all lands can come and here find rest and safety.

Let us all be like the leaves in our faithful and unselfish labors to build up this mighty and glorious tree. Let there be no antagonisms between classes, no animosities between sections, no bitterness between parties that shall mar and hinder us. But let each one in his place joyfully and heartily co-operate with all the rest in building up this great tree of our country until it shall be like unto that tree John saw in his apocalyptic vision that yields its fruit every month, whose leaves are for the healing of the nations and which grows in everlasting verdure "in the midst of the paradise of God." Then will our heroes not have died in vain.—Rev. Thomas T. Eaton, Louisville, Ky.

Patriotism of the Children.

On Memorial day nothing is more touching than the adornment of the graves of our fallen soldiers by the children. The day is most beneficial, for while it directs the thoughts of the child to our national heroes it stimulates his patriotic devotion, and dependent upon the child's love of country is the patriotism of the man.

The Flag on Memorial Day.

As the 30th of May is our memorial celebration day, it is generally considered more fitting that private flags should be hung at half mast. This is not, however, a universal custom. Many flags fly at full mast all day and do not violate any hard and fast tradition in being thus hung.

TELLING OF HIS COMRADES' GLORY

The Union Soldier And His Deeds

When the drum beat, when the first martyr's blood sprinkled the stones of Baltimore, he took his place in the ranks and went forward. You remember his ingenuous and glowing letters to his mother, written as if his pen were dipped in his very heart. How novel seemed to him the routine of service, the life of camp and march! How eager the wish to meet the enemy and strike his first blow for the good cause! What pride at the promotion that came and put its chevron on his arm or its strap upon his shoulder!

They took him prisoner. He wasted in Libby and grew gaunt and haggard with the horror of his sufferings and with pity for the greater horror of the sufferings of his comrades who fainted and died at his side. He tunneled the earth and escaped. Hungry and weak, in terror of recapture, he followed by night the pathway of the railroad. He slept in thickets and sank in swamps. He saw the glitter of horsemen who pursued him. He knew the blood-bound was on his track. He reached the line, and, with his hand grasping at freedom, they caught and took him back to his captivity. He was exchanged at last. And you remember when he came home on furlough how manly and war worn he had grown.

But he soon returned to the ranks and to the welcome of his comrades. They recall him now alike with tears and pride. In the rifle pits around Petersburg you heard his steady voice and firm command. Some one who saw him then fancied that he seemed that day like one who foretold the end. But there was no flinching as he charged. He had just turned to give a cheer when the fatal ball struck him. There was a convulsion of the upward hand. His eyes, pleading and loyal, turned their last glance to the flag.

Home they brought him, fairer than Adonis over whom the goddess of beauty wept. They buried him in the village churchyard under the green turf. Year by year his comrades and his kin, nearer than comrades, scatter his grave with flowers. Do you ask who he was? He was in every regiment and every company. He went out from every Massachusetts village. He sleeps in every Massachusetts burying ground. Recall romance, recite the names of heroes of legend and song, but there is none that is his peer.—John D. Long.

THE OLD VET'S SPIRIT.

He Marched in the Parade
In Washington Fifty Years
After the Grand Review.

Home, and some tired, I'll allow—
Sort of a buzz in my head!
I've got the old army grit,
Neighbor, or else I'd be dead!

Marched? With the best of them, yes!
Just as I did at Seven Oaks.
Say, when I think of that line
Somethin' right here kind o' chokes!

Me! Keepin' step through them streets
After 'th' years that's gone by.
Me! Once in army blue brave,
Broad shouldered, quick, keen of eye.

Seemed like the ghost of myself
Marchin' with more shadders there!
Just sort o' comradin' on—
Not mindin' how long or where!

Then came the word an' we knew
Wilson was watchin' our line.
If we wuz feeble or stiff,
None of us gave any sign.

We just bricked up like young princes—
Walked right along with new vim,
Felt that our swing an' our style
Must seem consolin' to him.

He an' this nation well know—
Though some wild talk has been said—
If he but needed to call,
Others would march where we led!

architecture and building two-story houses. Some hotels and the larger public buildings are of two stories.

"The thing about Salvador and I presume other parts of Central America which surprises tourists is that the farms run uphill and downhill, over mountain and in ravine. Here a farmer must have flat or at least only rolling ground. Coffee and sugar cane are the two great products, and some of the finest groves are on the steepest mountain side. Coffee trees need shades and they are planted under the balsam trees and you can think how lovely such a grove would look.

Over 600 Upon Ranch.

"More than 600 people live and are employed at Chilita, the Sol finca. Oxen are used for all farm work and hauling. Many of the planters are taking up fine stock raising now. Mr. Sol and his brother, who with the others of the family accompanied me to New Orleans on the return trip, came especially to visit the fine stock farms of the United States, purchasing for their own plantations.

"One of the quaintest spots I visited was Islanatan, an old Indian town, in fact about the oldest there. The Indians live in adobe huts, ten or twelve in one room. They dress as other folks but still observe their native customs of living. All are very musical and when an entertainment is wanted two of the men will start out as troubador and jester, one making rhymes to the other's music. It is all so crude that it is extremely comical.

"While the people of Salvador are Spanish their universal language is English. Most of them speak English, Spanish, French and German fluently, and one who does not speak at least four languages is considered ignorant. Many speak more.

Great Country for Music.

"As I told you before the people love music. Every few squares is a park and band concerts are given in these parks every night. After dinner in the evening every one goes to the park for a while. Mid-day is very hot but the nights are cool. In Guatemala all business closes from 12:30 a. m. until 1 o'clock but Salvador is very up to date and the stores stay open all day.

"All kinds of tropical fruits are grown, but carrots, cabbage, radishes and other vegetables are just as plentiful as in Missouri. Very few potatoes are grown. The banana is a staple of diet. The plantain, which is of the banana family, is used through numerous cooking "stunts," like our "spuds" are baked or stewed. Plantain is perfectly delicious. They never cook the regular banana which we get at home. Plantain tastes just like a banana and looks just like it, only is larger.

"One of the most peculiar customs of the people is the sons of the family using the maiden name of their mother. For instance, Sammy Smith, if his mother's name was formerly Jones, would write his name Sammy Smith Jones, or to abbreviate it, Sammy Smith J., a popular way.

"I heard very little European war talk during the winter but heard much of the Mexican troubles. Several minor disturbances in Salvador were an outgrowth of Mexican troubles. A number of Mexicans live in Salvador. Salvador is the smallest in area, but the largest in population, and the richest republic in Central America.

Tells of 'Sydney' Experience.

"Going out I had a very interesting visit on an English war boat, the 'Sydney.' Our boat, the 'Coppename,' stopped at Belize, on the gulf of Honduras for a day and a half.

"Our captain, through the courtesy of the American and English consuls at Belize, took me to visit the Sydney, which was at anchor in the gulf. The Sydney is a small boat carrying six-inch guns and is the one which was victorious in a fight with the German vessel Emden, destroying the latter.

"I never saw such pride and loyalty as those British jackies showed. Each one had to show me exactly how this 'gun hit the Emden here, this one hit her here, this one fired the shot that sank her' and so on. We had afternoon tea in the dining saloon and I must admit I nearly became flustered serving tea after the real English fashion to two British officers and our American captain."

While attending school in St. Joseph Miss Sol spent a summer in Maryville as a guest of Miss Barmann, and during that visit she endeared herself to all the friends of the Barmann family.

Shortly before Miss Barmann's departure for the states, Miss Sol's engagement to Senor Jose Antonio Aguilar of Salvador was announced. The marriage will take place in August. Senor Aguilar is a sugar planter owning the finca adjoining the Sol finca at Chilita.

Miss Barmann had that greatest of girl delights, helping to select her chum's trousseau, which was purchased in Paris and New York.

making foreign travel pictures—through the American consul at San Salvador obtained permission and took reels of the Sol finca as the model farm of Central America. Miss Barmann does not know the route of the picture but it is possible it will be shown in the weekly travelogues here at some time.

On her homeward journey Miss Barmann was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Sol and daughter Hortensia, Mr. Sol's mother and his brother Benjamin. On account of the poor railroad service and the lack of any railroad in places through Central America, quite a little trouble was experienced in reaching Puerto Barrios on the east coast where sailing was made for New Orleans.

Four days were spent on the water crossing the Caribbean sea and gulf of Mexico. On the arrival of the party in New Orleans last Monday they were joined by Mrs. Frank Barmann of this city and all spent a pleasurable four days in that quaint old city.

YES, WE ADMIT IT AGAIN

SIMPSON GREATER THAN MARYVILLE DREAMED IN 1913.

Three Years Ago He Ran Here First; Saturday He Ran High Hurdles in 14.3-5.

Again and for the "umpty-stenth" time, Maryville and Northwest Missouri residents are wont to admit that great as was the performance of "Bob" Simpson when he first appeared on a track in the 1913 track meet here, no one dreamed that a hurdling marvel, a wonder of the track world within three more years, stood before them.

Robert I. Simpson of Bosworth, running for the University of Missouri, is determined to have that high hurdles record all to himself. Two weeks ago he made a new mark on 14-4-5 seconds. A week later while he was duplicating the event in the Kansas meet a freshman in the University of California was doing so also.

Therefore Saturday with noted timers holding test watches in the Missouri Valley meet, "Bob" topped the hurdlers for a 14-3-5 record. He also stepped out the low sticks in 23-3-5, tying a world record. He won the broad jump for Missouri, getting 15 points out of M. U.'s 49 and making himself the individual star. Ames was next to Missouri with 22½ points.

The wonderful record may not stand as one watch did not work, one stood at 14-2-5, two at 14-3-5 and one at 15 flat. Simpson has another chance at Chicago next Saturday in the western meet, and has still another year at the University of Missouri.

"HUMAN FLY" GARDINER THRILLS
THOUSANDS IN DENVER.Widespread Interest Is Beginning to Be Taken in Maryville Celebration
June 15.

H. H. Gardiner, "The Human Fly," celebrated his last day in Denver yesterday by scaling to the top of the dome of the capitol building while probably 75,000 people looked on in wonder at his exploits. He is on his way to Omaha and will be in Maryville for one day, June 15, as the big attraction when the sale of the first town lot will be celebrated on its seventieth anniversary.

The following letter to a Maryville man which was turned over to the Commercial club, shows the interest which the day is beginning to arouse:

Spickard, Mo., May 26, 1916.—Dear Sir: I understand there is to be some kind of a celebration in Maryville soon. Will you please inform me what is going to be celebrated, and at what date it comes off, as I would like to attend.

I went to Maryville in January, 1866, and lived there several years. At that time the town was a little struggling village of about 1,000 population, but since then many changes have been made, and I understand Maryville is a beautiful city of about 6,000. I would like to see the old town once more before I cross the Great Divide. Respectfully, T. H. B. GARNER.

WILCOX FARMERS ARE BLUE

John Murphy Tells Journal Crop Conditions
Around Home Are Most Discouraging.

"Farmers are feeling pretty blue about the way crop conditions are looking in my vicinity at the present time," said John Murphy, a well known stockman and farmer of Wilcox, who was in today with a load of hogs of his own raising. "The farmers have been unable to plant corn and from present prospects the season will be fully as wet as last. However, if the weather is favorable from now on the farmers will be able to raise a good crop. We have not raised a really good crop for several years. Last year the weather was too wet and the year before it was too dry."—St. Joseph Stock Yards Journal.

"Heard From Massachusetts"Deeds of Famous Sixth Regiment
Brought Joy to Lincoln.

IN his book of reminiscences entitled "Memories of a Hundred Years" the late Edward Everett Hale told the following story of Lincoln and Sumner:

"Charles Sumner told me once that when Lincoln was making up his first lists of appointments he affected to be a little annoyed by the pressure which New England, and especially Massachusetts, brought to bear.

"To tell the truth, we had some men in Massachusetts of whom we need not be ashamed, and one of them, Charles Francis Adams, was appointed to London and another, John Lothrop Motley, to Vienna, two of the principal foreign appointments given to so small a state. When the last of these principal appointments was made Lincoln said to Sumner, 'Now, Mr. Sumner, I hope you will give me a little time before I hear from Massachusetts again.'

"This was only a few days, however, before the 19th of April, 1861, when Sumner and Lincoln were together at the White House, and it was announced that the Sixth Massachusetts regiment had fought its way through Baltimore and was at the moment placed in garrison at the capitol. Sumner said to Lincoln, with some satisfaction, 'Mr. President, you are glad to hear from Massachusetts today.'

WHEN MAY 30 COMES.

As oft as the 30th day of May returns with time's annual round let a grateful nation remember its dead and with floral offerings decorate the tombs of its fallen heroes while the dropping tear moistens the cold sod that covers their sleeping dust.

To them we owe the liberty we enjoy; to them we owe the preservation of our institutions. And shall we not hold them in grateful remembrance?

Let this beautiful custom be perpetuated until the day shall become hallowed in the history of freedom. It carries with it the idea of our loss and the dear cost of liberty. It brings fresh to mind the deeds of our country's martyrs.

It keeps alive and warm the greatest principles for which our sires poured out their blood, on which our republic is based.—General John A. Logan.

THE GUN
HE USED IN '61One Village
And the Flag

Down in the southwestern part of New Hampshire, in Cheshire county, there is a village called Nelson. It has 231 inhabitants. When the war of secession was going on, however, it sent 124 men to the front. There is a lawyer here in New York named Henry Melville, says the New York Times, and awhile ago it seemed to him—he was a Nelson man—that it might be just as well to present to the village a tablet commemorating its rather unusual record in the time of war. So he did, and it was unveiled not long ago near a little old Yankee church. Not many folks there, most likely. Melville could not have got from it the satisfaction of having a big crowd and a hurrah. Any pleasure he got from it must have been internal.

But he or somebody else in Nelson was not content with this celebration, and a pamphlet was published showing the record of these New Hampshire soldiers. Easy enough to do, for there were only 124 of them. Nelson, though, had given its best, its young men and its old ones, and there were husbands, fathers and maybe grandfathers in that list. "Born in Nelson" is the brief sentence appended to almost all of these biographies. There was one man not with a Yankee name. He came from Patagonia, of all places in the world, and his name was Castone. Nelson is rather proud of him. He was its foreigner. "He was not very strong, but he could knock men down as fast as they came to him till he had them in a pile," says Olin N. Wardwell, his camp "buddy," who writes a few regrettable brief lines about him for the record.

Even Castone "enlisted from Nelson." There was a boy from Harrisville, but he ran away from home so that he could enlist, being under the legal age, and picked Nelson out as a place where nobody would know him. Andrew Jackson Beal his name was. The Confederates added him to their bag when they took Harpers Ferry in 1862, but the boy was exchanged or escaped, for he stayed in the army, was promoted and was not mustered out until two months after the war was over.

"Born in Nelson" is true, too, of Thaddeus Angelo Barker, not a warrior, but a musician. Still, guns go off just the same when musicians are advancing at the head of their companies, and there was a day in the Wilderness when they ordered Thaddeus Angelo Barker to the operating table. He would not go. He lay there in the scrub oak all day long with his broken hand in a brook and after all did not lose it. "But it was never of much use"—a right hand, much needed by a musician. There was Granville S. Derby, "born in Nelson," who was one of the men who ran down Cemetery ridge after Pickett's lines collapsed and chased the Confederates across the stricken valley. Something a little apologetic has to be said about Joseph N. Day. He was not "born in Nelson." He was an alien from Massachusetts, but he had taken the blame off by lying in Nelson "for many years." He was shot and severely wounded the day that Sheridan made that celebrated ride to Cedar creek.

Sergeant Partridge was shot one day in September, 1864, and Private J. F. Foster, "enlisted from Nelson," happened to be "near by." So he "took hold of him to give him a lift," he says. Giving the sergeant a lift was dangerous, and the Confederates came across the field and took Foster prisoner. Foster tells of it without any emotion or any apparent comprehension that there was anything out of the ordinary about this lift giving.

Grave, serious minded men they were. When the Sumter news came to Nelson George G. Hardy turned to Edwin P. Hunt and said, "One of us will have to go." There was nothing light minded about the way Nelson went into the war with its 124 men. Hunt was the first man to enlist from Nelson. He was young, but Hardy was middle aged and married. Hardy went, just the same, and died in the field.

CHERRY COOKING HINTS

NEW USES FOR FRUIT SOON TO RIPEN.

"Cherry Vinegar" Makes Delicious and Refreshing Drink—Good Salad
With Peanuts.

Baked Cherry Dumplings.

Sift together one pint of flour, one-half teaspoonful salt and one teaspoonful baking powder. Rub in one table-spoonful shortening. Add sweet milk enough to make a soft dough. Roll out one-half inch thick, cut into four-inch squares. Fill each square with as many cherries as it will contain and sprinkle generously with sugar. Fold the edges of the dumplings over and place them in a floured pan. Bake one-half hour and serve with hard sauce, or with cream and sugar.

Cherry Bread Pudding.

Butter slices of bread and place them in a pudding dish in layers with stewed cherries between. Bake for a half-hour and before taking from the oven put over the top beaten whites of two eggs. Brown slightly and serve. Let stand one-half hour and serve with plain custard sauce.

Cherry and Peanut Salad.

Select and seed large sweet cherries and insert in each seed cavity a blanched peanut. Place on lettuce leaves and cover with boiled mayonnaise. Sprinkle the top liberally with ground peanuts.

Cherry Vinegar.

There are few drinks more refreshing than that made from half an inch of cherry vinegar in the bottom of a tumbler into which ice water is poured and stirred until the glass is full. To prepare this vinegar cover any sour red cherries with good cider vinegar, in a wooden or earthen vessel. Bruise and stir at intervals for four days. To every pint of strained juice add one pound of sugar. Boil fifteen minutes; skim. Keep in well-corked bottles.—In the June Mother's Magazine.

WORK TOO HARD FOR MILK

In Careful Tests With 400 Cows, 50
Have Been Found to Be Money Losers.

That the average farmer works twice as hard as he ought in order to get his milk supply, is the belief of C. E. Rocklage, official tester for the Buchanan county (Mo.) Cow Testing association, who has had 400 cows under close observation for eight months, and is astonished at the results. And at that these are supposed to be good dairy cows, and yet thirty of that 400 have been sold as being money losers and there are 50 more under suspicion. They may barely get through, but hardly more than that. On the other hand, one cow in the association has given as high as eight gallons of good quality milk a day.

"I am forced to the conclusion," says Rocklage in the current issue of Profitable Farming magazine, "that half the cows in the country are money losers and that a farmer had just as well be saving half his work and get as much milk. In addition to the saving in labor, there would be the saving in feed and barn room. This statement, I am confident, would be borne out if the milk were weighed and tested with the Babcock test."

Rocklage visits every dairy once a month and checks up the records and makes his own tests. He carries with him all the necessary apparatus, and travels by train, in automobiles and horse-drawn vehicles, more than 100 miles in his rounds. His records show that even in one of these dairy herds there are two cows that give 2½ times as much as two other cows in the same herd, the figures for one pair being 4,873 pounds in eight months as compared with 11,320 pounds for the better pair.

To Attend Graduation.

Miss Carrie Hopkins left Saturday morning for Norfolk, Neb., to attend the graduation of her niece, Miss Helen Hudson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hudson, formerly of Maryville, from the high school. Mrs. Helen Hopkins is visiting her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hopkins, in Rosendale, during her daughter's absence in Norfolk.

"OLD KATE" GREAT MARE

IS NOW RAISING HER NINETEENTH COLT.

Horse Belonging to James M. Vert of Wilcox Has Most Interesting History.

An interesting old mare is "Old Kate," a 27-year-old Percheron grade mare owned by James M. Vert, Wilcox. She is now raising her nineteenth colt and, so far as looks is concerned, says Profitable Farming, seems to be a 5-year-old.

But a lot of progress has come during "Old Kate's" lifetime. For instance, she has plowed land worth $25 an acre, and the same land again when it was worth $150. She has cultivated corn that sold at 12½ cents a bushel, and has seen the price go to 75 cents. Her colts have sold at $75, when prices were off, and later colts have brought $225. Mr. Vert, as well as he can figure up, has sold $1,525 worth of Kate's colts, and has three of them left.

Three of his sons have learned to ride and plow with Kate, and she has furnished each of them with a pair of mares. A grandson is just now learning to ride on her.

Despite the fact that she is old and has worked her share, she still is able to pull a plow, a though Mr. Vert won't let her work hard now. She has been a faithful helper and he is going to keep her as long as she lives and give her comfort. She still is in perfect health and hasn't a blemish on her. She is, however, slightly hard of hearing.

In the campaign of 1896 she was one of sixteen white horses in a Bryan 16 to 1 parade at Maryville, and helped win the banner for the township having the largest delegation in the parade.

Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Butcher of Barnard announce the birth of a daughter, Saturday, May 27.
